

Eagle County Aviation Assoc. Fall Roundup - Search/Rescue, Winter Survival, American Champ & More

Come join the ECAA for a fun and informative Saturday October 13th morning event at Eagle County Regional Airport. This morning of aviation is free to all and will feature presentations on search and rescue and winter survival from the Civil Air Patrol as well as a presentation on new American Champion aircraft and an opportunity to play a little game to test your skills with a flight computer. The event will qualify for WINGS credit if you register through FAASafety.gov.

Directions: The event will start at 9:00 AM in Terminal B - Adjacent to the Vail Valley Jet Center. If you are arriving by plane just park at the Vail Valley Jet Center and come inside. Landing and facility fees will be waived for aircraft flying in for the event. If arriving by car park outside the fence near gate 4, in front of the Vail Valley Jet Center and the Jet Center will buzz you through the gate. For questions on getting to the event call Loren French - 970-401-4104.

A message from the National FAASTeam Manager

Over 10,150 AMTs earned an AMT Award last year. Will you, this year?

Sign up for the FAA's safety services at www.FAASafety.gov!

Event Details

Sat, Oct 13, 2012 - 9:00 am
Vail Valley Jet Center - Terminal B

871 Cooley Mesa Road
Terminal B - VVJC
Gypsum, CO 81637

Contact: Loren French
(970) 401-4104
mountaincfi@yahoo.com

Select #: NM0346518
Representative Loren French

The FAA Safety Team (FAASTeam) is committed to providing equal access to this meeting/event for all participants. If you need alternative formats or services because of a disability, please communicate your request as soon as possible with the person in the "Contact Information" area of the meeting/event notice. Note that two weeks is usually required to arrange services.